

MARCH 2023

At the Store

WORDS OF APPRECIATION

BY ROBERT LUCAS, PRODUCE MANAGER

It goes without saying, that the last three years have been difficult and challenging for most all of us. Here at the Upper Valley Food Coop, we have done our best to meet those challenges in the retail environment, managing to survive the onslaught of pandemic, rising inflation and, recently, extremes in the weather.

Through all of this, our customers have stood alongside us. Not only with their patronage, but with words of encouragement and thanks.

This support has been crucial to our store and the real reason we are still standing after the aforementioned tests of time. As produce manager, I cannot tell you how much I appreciate you guys. A catch phrase I use with a vast majority of customers when I see them in the store is: "Thanks for coming in," My comment is a reflection of the way I feel, and I know that sentiment extends from our General Management Team as well as all the staff here at the Upper Valley Food Coop.

In closing, please never forget how appreciated you all are. We are here now and will continue to be here in the future, and it's all because of our wonderful, thoughtful and supportive customers. Bless you all.

THE GM SEARCH IS UNDERWAY!

BY TINA BARNEY, GM SEARCH COMMITTEE MEMBER

This week we have begun posting the GM job in multiple outlets. We have polled the employees and the Board for what they feel we should consider most important as we review applications, and this week it's the membership's turn to identify priorities for candidates, as well as let us know the challenges you foresee our next GM needing to manage.

You can see our job description and job posting on our website: www.uppervalleyfood.coop/employment

The member survey is available on paper near the checkout at the store, and online at: <https://tinyurl.com/uvfcsearchinput>

Our MARCH partner is...

Willing Hands

"Gleaning" is the time-honored tradition of sharing the extra food left in a field after the harvest.

Willing Hands gleaners visit local partner farms and orchards to collect fresh vegetables, berries, apples and mixed produce directly from the fields.
